

How to remove red eye on Photoshop

1. Select file and open the photo you would like to use from your USB drive.
2. Click the seventh tool down from the top and select red eye tool.

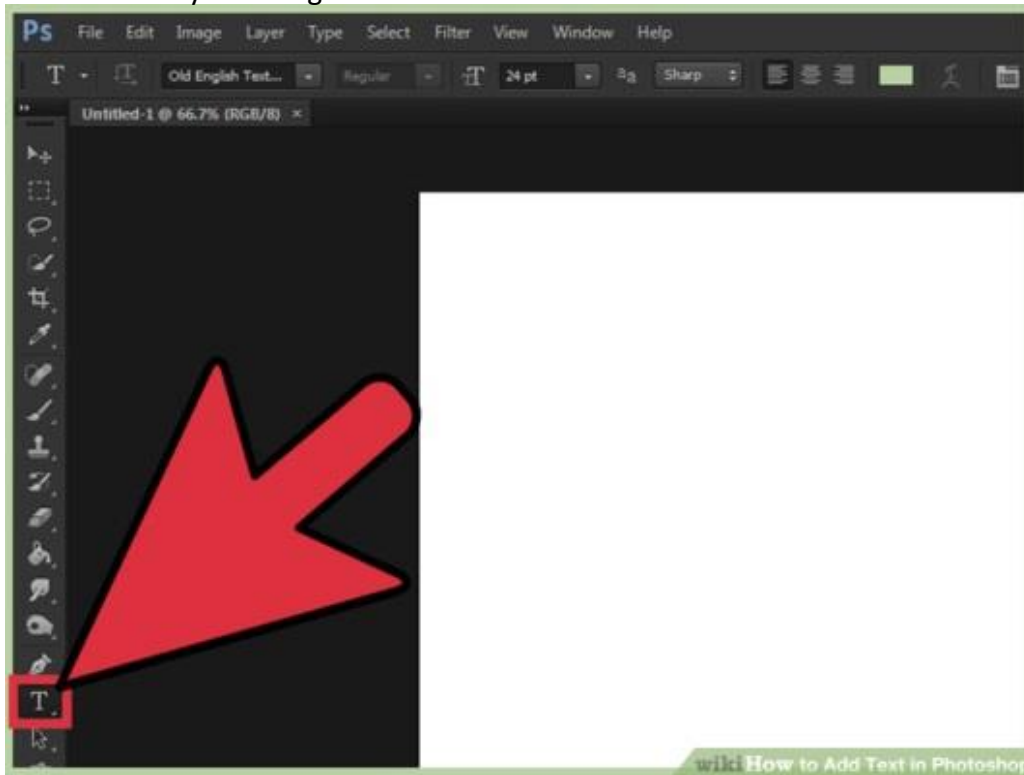

3. Then click on the red eye on the picture. More than one click might be necessary to get rid of the entire red eye.

Congrats you're done!

How to date a photo on Photoshop

1. Select file and open the photo you would like to use from your USB drive.
2. Click the T symbol. Eighth tool from the bottom.

3. Move the mouse to the selection of the photo you would like to put a date. Click and drag and a text box should pop up.
4. Click inside the box and type the date.
5. In the right hand corner you should see a color selection. Highlight the entire text and choose a color that suits best (yellow tends to work really well on most photos).
6. Click the move tool in the tool box (This is the very first one in the bar) and you should be able to drag the date wherever on the picture you would like.

Congrats you're done!
